Magic Letters: What Are They?

Magic Letters (“MagLets”) are “Meaningful Letters.”

According to “Magic Letter” Theory (see languagebazaar.com), the first consonant letter (in any word in any language) is an “Icon” (a picture) of the meaning of the whole word.

For example:

The MagLet C looks like it’s “Catching” the rest of the word, to Collect it.

This MagLet suggests the meanings of: Cup, Cap, Chair. Spanish Casa ‘house,’ & Comer ‘to eat.’ For example,

The MagLet M meaning ‘TOGETHER’ in Hebrew & Italian.

MagLet	Meaning	Hebrew	Italian	meaning
M	TOGETHER	^aaMen	Mamma	Mama
		^oaM	Molti	Many
		^aiMa^a	Mescolare	Mix
		Mèlekh	Mondo	world
			Maestro	teacher

How many of these foreign words can you explain as deriving from the MagLet Meaning ‘TOGETHER’?

the words vary from language to language, but they’re all based on the same Magic Letters. (The Magic Letters themselves have two Main Meanings each.)
